

THE INSTITUTE FOR COMMUNITY COLLABORATION

The SFRPC's Institute for Community Collaboration is a program dedicated to the provision of public policy agenda design, collaborative process, facilitation and consensus building. The Institute is dedicated to the provision of direct services, building the field, and research (theory to practice).

Projects are already underway in which the Institute is providing neutral services in Facilitation and Mediation in a variety of settings.

In accomplishing the Institute's second goal of "building the field", the Institute will develop a list of public policy facilitators and mediators to whom projects can be outsourced. This brochure announces the first set of trainings to accomplish that goal.

JANICE M. FLEISCHER, J.D., TRAINER

Janice M. Fleischer, J.D., is the Program Manager of the Institute. Previously the Coordinator of the South Florida Office of the Florida Conflict Resolution Consortium, Ms. Fleischer has provided conflict prevention and resolution through training, facilitation and mediation services in the area of public policy since 1996. She is a Florida qualified mediation trainer. She taught mediation at the University of Miami School of Law; has served, since its inception, on the Southern Division of the Florida Mediator Qualifications Board and has served as an officer and Board Member of state and international dispute resolution organizations.
